

1 AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

2
3 1. Replace the paragraph on page 12 beginning at line 3 with the following paragraph:

4 As shown in Figure 4, each player station 40 includes a computer system having a
5 processor 44, a touch screen display 45 or other display capable of displaying different graphical
6 representations under control of processor 44, a control panel 46, and a player card reader 47.
7 Player station software executed by processor 44 receives information from player card reader 47
8 to log a player into the respective central computer (34 or 36), and then allow the player to 9 participate in the games available through the player station 40 by purchasing pre-matched bingo
10 card representations and corresponding game play records. The player station software also 11 causes display ~~35~~ 45 to show a player the results of play as dictated by the purchased bingo card
12 representation/game play record. Further information on the operation of the player stations will 13 be described below with reference to Figure 9.

14
15 2. Replace the paragraph on page 14 beginning at line 4 with the following paragraph:

16 Although the physical three-by-three grid is shown for purposes of illustrating a bingo
17 card representation according to the present gaming system 10, it will be appreciated that the 18 bingo card is actually represented in electronic form for use in the system. The data required to 19 define a given bingo card representation may be arranged in any suitable fashion. For example,
20 the game card may be represented by a series of the nine numerals with the first numeral in the 21 series representing the designation at location 1, the second numeral in the series representing the 22 designation at location 2 and so forth. In this format, the electronic representation for the bingo
23 card shown in Figure 5 will be a representation comprising [[a]] series of numbers 8, 6, 1, 3, 4, 7,
